“BUSKITA!” responds to requests from general users such as “I want to know the route to my destination!”, “I wonder when the bus is coming!”, and “I need to make sure the current bus service status immediately!”.

Users can check such information by their smart phones in multiple languages. The information can also be provided to digital signage placed in public facilities.

In addition, “BUSKITA!” brings benefits to bus operators too. They can grasp the bus operation status like time table accuracy. Onboard tablet terminal can be used as communication tool between operator and crews.

SAPPORO GOURMET COUPON

©Sapporo Tourist Association / MediaMagic

Japanese name: さっぽろグルメクーポン

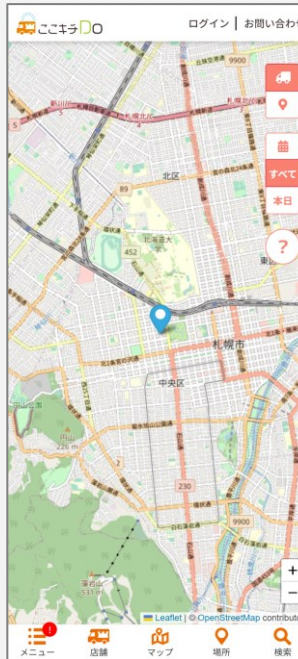

It's a smartphone app to introduce tourism information of Sapporo City.

Users can get information about various events held in Sapporo City and reputable restaurants recommended to tourists.

This app support English and Chinese.

Development framework: Vue.js & Apache Cordova.

KoKo-Kitchen Do

Japanese name:ここキチDO

This service allows you to easily find where kitchen carts are opening stalls on a map. A filter function for stall opening dates allows you to see where future stalls will be located.

The project was planned mainly by the International Tourism Department of Fusho (consortium) and Media Magic. We built the system using our expertise in mobility services technology.
